EDUCATORS SHOWCASE
January 20 – January 31, 2009

BRYAN, TX --- Celebrate Educator Appreciation Days at the Brazos Valley Museum of Natural History.

The Museum is hosting an Educator's Showcase from January 20 until January 31, 2009. This short-term exhibit is available to all educators in and around the Brazos Valley and provides them with information from organizations that offer free and low cost materials and resources for educators, with an emphasis on environmental, science, and history education.

There are still a few tables available that will allow educational organizations to feature materials and/or resources for science and history teachers. If you are interested, please contact either Bess Manning or Maria Lazo at 979-776-2195 or email education@brazosvalleymuseum.org. We hope that teachers and educational organizations take advantage of this great opportunity for educators in the Brazos Valley.
